

TwoConnect's Chief Software Architect Receives Prestigious Microsoft® Technology Award

Microsoft's Most Valuable Professionals (MVPs) Award program recognizes TwoConnect Architect Rodriguez for his exceptional contributions to technical communities worldwide

Miami, FL. April 2007. TwoConnect, Inc. is proud to announce that for the third year in a row, its Chief Software Architect, Jesus Rodriguez has won the prestigious Microsoft® BizTalk® Server Most Valuable Professional (MVP) Award.

As Chief Software Architect at TwoConnect, Mr. Rodriguez has served as the lead architect for the design and development of TwoConnect's suite of BizTalk Server adapters. The adapters enable companies to save time and money by seamlessly connecting disparate applications and to share data more effectively. The adapters include those for: Web Services Enhancements 3.0, SalesForce.com®, SonicMQ® and the award winning Service Broker Enhancements for Microsoft SQL® Server™.

The Microsoft MVP Award celebrates the best and brightest individuals from around the world who have demonstrated a commitment to innovation and knowledge sharing within the technical community. Mr. Rodriguez has been instrumental in helping those in online and offline technical communities solve problems and discover new capabilities using BizTalk Server. He expressed deep appreciation for the award.

"My role at TwoConnect has provided me with advanced technical resources and real world experience which has enabled me to further my potential and passion for technology," he explained. "Having the MVP Award is an honor and will help me innovate with customers and reach even more people."

Mr. Rodriguez contributes articles to MSDN, The Architecture Journal and Web Services Journal, as well as the .NET and J2EE communities. He leads sessions at TechEd and the Microsoft Business Process and SOA Conference, and often conducts Web Casts on Microsoft technologies. As a member of the .NET 3.0 Digerati team, he participates in software design reviews with Microsoft Product Teams. He is a prolific blogger on all subjects related to integration.
